QINGXU YANG

School of Economics, Fudan University
Shanghai, China
qxyang@fudan.edu.cn

Employment

Fudan University 2026–present
Assistant Professor, School of Economics

The University of Hong Kong 2024–2026
Postdoctoral Fellow, HKU Business School

Education

Peking University
Ph.D. in Economics, Guanghua School of Management 2020–2024
M.Phil. in Economics, Guanghua School of Management 2018–2020

Beijing Normal University
B.A. in Economics, Business School 2014–2018

Research Interests

Digital Economics; Labor Economics

My research examines how digital technologies shape the decisions of individuals and firms. I focus particularly on how artificial intelligence changes expert judgment and behavior, reshapes interactions between experts and those who rely on their advice, and affects economic welfare.

Publications

1. Women in the Courtroom: Technology and Justice, with Heng Chen and Yuyu Chen. The Review of Economic Studies, 2026, 93(3): 1574–1601.
2. Gender Disparities in the Labor Market during COVID-19 Lockdowns: Evidence from Online Job Postings and Applications in China, with Jiayin Hu, Xuan Wang, and Junjian Yi. Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization, 2024.
3. Balancing Security and Development in Digital Governance: Evidence from China's Education App Regulation, with Ji Xu and Jiayi Hou. Management World (in Chinese), 2026, 42(2): 39–59.

Working Papers

1. Medals and Mindsets: How Women's Olympic Competitiveness Advances Gender Equality, with Heng Chen.
2. Directional AI Advice: Experimental Evidence from Healthcare, with Yuyu Chen, Hongbin Li, Lingsheng Meng, and Xinyao Qiu.
3. Becoming Cinderella: Strategic Beauty Investment Under Marriage Norms, with Heng Chen and Xiangyu Lu.
4. The Fair Distribution of Gains from AI: Replacement, Augmentation, and Claims Beyond Current Work, with Kelin Lu.
5. Setting the Bench Higher: The Impact of Judge Evaluation Reform on Judicial Performance in China, with Hui Wang, Yuyu Chen, and Yunfeng Song.

Work in Progress

1. The Impact of AI Reviewers on Reviewer Reliability and Publication Decisions, with Magnus Johannesson, Hao Ma, and Zibo Zhao.
2. Do Divorce Costs Affect Abortion Decisions? Evidence from China's Family Law Reform, with Heng Chen and Ning Zhang.
3. Patent Invalidation, Firm Performance, and Innovation, with Xuan Wang.

Teaching Experience

Fudan University — Instructor

Panel Data Analysis (Undergraduate)	Fall 2026
Digital Economy (Graduate)	Fall 2026
Digital Industrial Policy (Part-time Graduate)	Fall 2026

The University of Hong Kong — Scheduled Teaching

Selected Topics in Digital Economy (MECON), Instructor	2027

Honors & Awards

Best Teaching Assistant Award, Peking University	2021
Merit Student Award, Peking University	2020
National Scholarship for Graduate Students, Ministry of Education	2019
Outstanding Graduate, Beijing Municipal Education Commission	2018
National Scholarship for Undergraduate Students, Ministry of Education	2017

Skills

Languages: Mandarin (native), English (fluent)
Technical: Stata, Python, SQL, natural language processing, machine learning

Personal Information

Citizenship: China